The Company's Interim Chief Executive Officer, Allen Palmiere, states, "We are deeply saddened by this tragic accident and our condolences go to his family. Our immediate focus is to support his family, friends and colleagues at this most difficult time. Safety for everyone is our highest priority and this was the first time that an accident of this nature has occurred while fuel is being transported off-site to Aurora. Health and safety are core values of AGM and, as such, frequent training is conducted on all occupational health and safety programs.
