

Anfield Announces Closing of Sale of Mayaniquel S.A. to Cunico Resources N.V.

17.06.2014 | Marketwired

VANCOUVER, BRITISH COLUMBIA--(Marketwired - Jun 17, 2014) - Anfield Nickel Corp. ("Anfield") (TSX VENTURE:ANF) announced today that it closed its previously announced sale of Anfield's Guatemalan subsidiary, Mayaniquel S.A. and its Mayaniquel nickel laterite project, to Cunico Resources N.V. (the "Transaction").

Upon closing of the Transaction, Anfield received the first of five $3 million cash payments comprising the purchase price. The remaining installment payments will be made in four annual $3 million installments totaling $12 million (all dollar amounts are in US dollars unless otherwise stated) commencing on June 16, 2015. A final payment will be made on June 16, 2019 based on the following formula: (Year 5 average nickel price / $14,000 x $43 million) - $15 million. For example, if the average nickel price in the fifth year following closing is the current price of $18,364/tonne, the final payment would be $41.4 million and the total purchase price would be approximately $56.4 million (Cdn $61 million).

If the fifth year average nickel price exceeds $30,000/tonne, a bonus adjustment of 15% will be added to the purchase price. For example, if the average price in the fifth year is $30,001 the final payment would be $91 million and the total purchase price would be approximately $106 million (Cdn $117 million).

The average annual nickel price over the last 10 years has been approximately $20,100 per tonne and ranged from a high of $37,230 per tonne in 2007 to a low of $13,800 per tonne in 2004.

Cunico's payment of future purchase price installments is secured by a pledge on the shares of Mayaniquel S.A., a pledge by Cunico's marketing subsidiary on certain accounts receivable arising from the sale of processed nickel, and a guarantee from Cunico's subsidiary for performance of all payment and performance obligations of Cunico pursuant to the Share Purchase Agreement between Cunico and Anfield dated April 23, 2014.

Full details of the Transaction are included in the share purchase agreement, the information circular dated May 9, 2014 and certain related documents and agreements, all of which are available at the SEDAR website at www.sedar.com under Anfield's profile.
