Cash costs were approximately $9.85 and all-in sustaining costs were $14.15, down 28% and 32% respectively year-over-year.
- Galena Complex silver production for the quarter of approximately 391,600 ounces and 596,000 silver equivalent ounces, increases of 2% and 29% respectively compared with Q1, 2014. Cash costs of approximately $14.60 and all-in sustaining costs of $19.60, down 22% and 18% year-over-year.
- Guidance for 2015 remains unchanged at 2.6–3.0 million ounces in silver production and 4.6–5.2 million ounces in silver equivalent production with projected cash costs of $11.50–$12.50 per ounce and all-in sustaining cash costs of $16.50–$17.50 per ounce.

"Despite the integration and some difficult restructuring in Mexico, we had a very solid operational quarter as both mines performed at or above budget," said Scorpio Mining President & CEO Darren Blasutti. "For the remainder of the year, we will stay focused on further reducing costs and improving productivity across the organization while continuing to ramp up silver-lead production at the Galena Complex."

The company expects to release its first quarter financial results on or before May 13, 2015.

Consolidated First Quarter Production Details

Consolidated silver production was 708,241 ounces for the first quarter of 2015 which represents an increase of 9% over the previous quarter and 4% year-over-year. Silver equivalent production was approximately 1.25 million ounces, up 13% over the previous quarter and 25% year-over-year; while, grade rose 14% and 9% respectively. Consolidated cash costs fell 13% to $12.46 compared with the fourth quarter of 2014 and 25% year-over-year; while all-in sustaining costs dropped 26% to $17.15 compared with the prior quarter and 24% year-over-year. In addition, lead production increased 110% year-over-year, as the Galena Complex continued its focus on increasing silver-lead ore production.

First quarter cash costs were within the Company's projected annual guidance of $11.50–$12.50 per silver ounce and $16.50–$17.50 per all-in silver equivalent ounce. As silver-lead production from the Galena Complex continues to ramp up over the course of the year, the Company expects costs to be lower than the first quarter. Further productivity enhancements and cost control initiatives are underway to protect the Company's cash balance given low silver prices.
