

Beachwood, Ohio, April 24, 2017 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Gold Lakes Corp., (the "Company") (OTC PINK: GLLK) an exploration stage Blue-Sky company that specializes in acquiring and developing mining assets today announced that it has retired the majority of its convertible notes taken in the last two years, either thru repayment or thru issuance of shares in a strong effort to reenergize its balance sheet.

The Company acknowledged that, although it still requires capital to keep the business going, it will be more judicious in any future financings. Over the past several months, it has focused on reducing the debt exposure on its balance sheet and is assessing new and more cost-effective sources of liquidity to finance its business.

"Our stock has been under enormous pressure due to the heavy amount of debt converted into shares and introduced to the market. The dilution of the stock has been a concern to us, and all of our shareholders, and to hopefully see it coming to an end is a relief to us all. Going forward, we will still need to finance a portion of our operations, but we have tightened our belts and will continue to run very lean. We are confident that our approach will result in a significant increase in our stock price in the future." states Christopher Vallos, President of Gold Lakes Corp.

Gold Lakes Corp. strategy is to identify and acquire prospective properties in well-mineralized mining areas and advancing these properties toward making new discoveries within the Abitibi Greenstone Belt.
