

HOUSTON, TX--(Marketwired - August 09, 2017) - Tellurian Inc. (Tellurian) (NASDAQ: TELL) continued to progress development of the Driftwood LNG terminal and Driftwood pipeline (together, the Driftwood Project) during the second quarter of 2017. Notably:

- Bechtel completed the front-end engineering and design (FEED) study and submitted a lump sum turnkey (LSTK) engineering, procurement and construction (EPC) proposal for the Driftwood LNG terminal;
- Tellurian launched commercial and marketing efforts at the Gastech 2017 conference in Tokyo, Japan; and
- TELL was added to the Russell 2000 index.

Tellurian reported a net loss of approximately $33 million, or ($0.17) per share (basic and diluted), for the three months ended June 30, 2017.

President and CEO Meg Gentle said, "Completion of the FEED study is an important accomplishment in the development of the Driftwood Project. The FEED study is the culmination of a year's work and a testament to the strength of the Bechtel, GE, Chart, and Tellurian engineering teams. The EPC proposal differentiates the Driftwood Project from other projects by enhancing cost certainty, which will support commercial and financing discussions. We anticipate executing a binding EPC agreement with Bechtel this autumn, and we intend to begin producing LNG in 2022."

Estimated Driftwood Project timeline

LSTK EPC contract	Mid-2017
LNG sales and purchase agreements	1H 2018
FERC construction authorization	Mid-2018
Liquefaction project financial close	Mid-2018
Begin construction	Mid-2018
