09.03.2018 | GlobeNewswire

TORONTO, March 09, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Continental Gold Inc. (TSX:CNL) (OTCQX:CGOOF) ("Continental" or the "Company") is pleased to report on 2017 activities at the Buriticá project.

"Major milestones were reached during 2017 on the advancement of our Buriticá Project", commented Ari Sussman, CEO. "After receiving our environmental permit in late 2016, we secured $275 million of project debt financing with Red Kite, a strategic investment of $109 million from Newmont and initiated construction of the largest gold mine in Colombia. Underground development is advancing on three separate headings and earthworks in the Higabrá Valley is moving rapidly towards first major concrete pour in the coming weeks. We are also excited to have resumed drilling at the Buriticá project after a multi-year hiatus and look forward to both improving the mineral resource estimate with definition and infill drilling and testing newly-generated brownfield and greenfield targets with a goal of identifying a new discovery in 2018."
