Phoenix, March 15, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Marksman Energy Inc. ("Marksman" or the "Company") (OTCQB:MKSEF) (TSXV:MAH), CEO Archie Nesbitt, was recently interviewed on Uptick Newswire's "Stock Day" podcast with Mr. Everett Jolly.

"Today we are welcoming back Archie Nesbitt, Chief Executive Officer of Marksman Energy Inc.," said Jolly. "The Company was with us in late November 2017, with a stock price of $0.07 and is now trading between $0.18 and $0.20."

The Company operates in the Clinton Sandstone Formation in Ohio and is close to completing its first horizontal well. "The well we are working on is the longest horizontal well in the formation," explained Nesbitt. "We are especially excited to have had oil flow to surface during the drilling process."

Marksman Energy has amassed a talented and experienced technical team for its pioneering horizontal drilling program. "Based on our studies, horizontal drills produce 15-times the amount of oil that vertical drills produce, and we are planning to complete between eight and ten wells this year," continued Nesbitt. "Between our team and land positions, we are encouraged about the year to come."
