

Cerus Energy Group Completes Preliminary Engineering on “El Rollo” Growing Machine Retail Model

20.04.2018 | The Newswire

Calgary, April 20, 2018 - Cerus Energy Group (TSXV:CEA) ("Cerus" or the "Company") is pleased to report that Camarico Group's subsidiary Aggro Manufacturing has completed the preliminary engineering of its El Rollo growing machine retail model for the future use of small batch strain testing and retail sales to the public. The El Rollo Retail has been designed as a testing model for the company's commercial equipment for use within the Camarico portfolio for the cultivation of marijuana.

The company plans to initiate the fabrication process in May 2018, with planned improvements in the design and assembly process thereafter.

Camarico is sourcing a qualified marijuana master grower to conduct preliminary equipment testing within a licensed marijuana facility under the supervision of qualified personnel. Testing will be conducted to evaluate the following parameters:

- Crop Yield
- Quality of Produced Product
- Power Consumption
- Fertilizer Consumption
- Reduction or Enhancement of Trimming and Personnel
- Equipment Maintenance Requirements
- Strain Performance and Cataloging

The company will utilize the findings and incorporate desired alterations to promote optimal efficiencies in the OPEX and Output of the desired product.
