"The past several months have been tough for many local volunteer departments due to the cancellation or postponement of many fundraisers and community events," said Mike Lauderbaugh, Vice President of Environmental, Health & Safety with EQT Corp.. "While these donations would have happened, regardless of the pandemic, we want to pay special attention to and recognize all that these men and women do on a daily basis to keep our communities safe."

"Covering the costs of needed equipment is becoming harder and harder every day. The cost of a new fire truck has almost doubled in the past twenty-five years," said Jeff Marshall, Chief of the Waynesburg Franklin Township Volunteer Fire Company. "We are always looking for partners to assist us in staying up to date with our equipment needs. EQT has historically been just that, an excellent partner that is there when needed. This donation will go to offset the cost of our new fire truck and the equipment that will be stored on that truck. As always EQT is there for us when needed."
