"In 2020 there was greater need as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic," said Hunter A. Applewhite, President of the Dominion Energy Charitable Foundation. "At the same time, we had to exercise great creativity to safely assist those in need. We're proud of our employee honorees for rising to the challenge and commend them for their personal commitments and dedication to helping others."

The Dominion Energy Volunteers of the Year and their charities of choice are:

- Tara Brady, Salt Lake City, UT., The Farm at Gardner Village

The 37th annual event paying tribute to the efforts of employee volunteers will be held virtually on Wednesday, April 21 from noon-1:30 EDT. You can attend via livestream on YouTube: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=L3IGfy3S3iU>

In 2020, Dominion employees gave 61,000 hours of their time to a variety of charitable activities while they adapted and adhered to COVID-19 guidelines. The educational needs of children were supported through virtual mentoring and tutoring, creating notes of encouragement for holiday care packages delivered to children in foster care and providing an online version of the Dominion Energy Speakers Bureau topics to engage families in hands-on activities over the summer.

Volunteers helped community members who experienced job loss due to the pandemic prepare for new positions by offering virtual résumé writing and interview practice sessions. With a focus on the environment, employees helped create much needed outdoor spaces by building and donating picnic tables and benches across our Central Virginia region; and organized community and waterway clean-ups.
