ADM contributes $1 million to support Water.org programming in Latin America and Southeast Asia

ADM (NYSE: ADM), a global leader in sustainably sourced solutions from nature, is furthering its commitment to bringing safe water and sanitation to the world by providing a $1 million contribution to Water.org in support of the nonprofit organization's efforts to transform millions of lives on a global scale.

Today, 2.2 billion people - 1 in 4 - lack access to safe water, and 3.5 billion - 2 in 5 people - do not have access to a safe toilet. ADM's contribution will support programs in Peru, Brazil, Mexico, the Philippines, Cambodia, and Indonesia, enabling Water.org to improve safe water and sanitation for more than 116,800 people in need.

"We are working every day to solve this crisis because for millions of women, children and communities, access to safe water can turn problems into potential, unlocking education, economic opportunity and improved health," said Lina Bonova, chief revenue officer, Water.org. "With ADM's support, Water.org can help empower even more people in need with access to safe water and sanitation solutions that last."

"Water.org's efforts to address the water crisis and improve access to safe water and sanitation is a powerful approach that brings hope, health and opportunities for millions of people. We are proud to partner with Water.org to help deliver life-changing resources to people in need and to unlock economic opportunities and improved health," said Alison Taylor, Chief Sustainability Officer, ADM. "Through our collective efforts and shared commitment, we are helping transform lives while advancing critical climate and biodiversity goals."

The ADM contribution is provided through ADM Cares, ADM's corporate social investment program. ADM Cares helps sustain and strengthen communities where ADM colleagues work, live and operate by directing funding, volunteerism, and industry knowledge to initiatives and organizations that drive meaningful social, economic and environmental progress worldwide with a focus on three main pillars that align with ADM's purpose: advancing health & well-being; supporting sustainability and increasing food security.
