About Guyana Frontier

Guyana Frontier is a public mineral exploration company (effective January 28, 2011) listed on the TSX Venture Exchange (TSX-V: GYG), and is focused on the exploration, discovery and development of precious metals deposits located within the South American country of Guyana. Guyana Frontier (formerly Shoreham) began acquiring interests in Guyanese gold exploration properties in 2007, and now holds various rights to obtain working interests in approximately 322,150 acres (130,370 hectares) of prospective lands. Guyana Frontier's main asset is the Marudi Mountain Project, which was the subject of extensive exploration by previous explorers, but has not been the subject of a diamond drilling program since 2004. Guyana Frontier's goal is to develop a significant gold resource at the Marudi Mountain Project, and to explore its other projects using joint venture funding.

Neither the TSX Venture Exchange nor its Regulation Services Provider (as that term is defined in the policies of the TSX Venture Exchange) accepts responsibility for the adequacy or accuracy of this release.
