Sydney, Australia (ABN Newswire) - Kagara Limited (ASX:KZL) is pleased to announce the appointment of Mark Hands to its Executive Committee as Executive General Manager Corporate. This role incorporates the roles of Company Secretary and General Counsel.

Mr Hands replaces David Peterson, who retired on December 31, 2011 after 12 years of loyal service to the Company.

Mr Hands - who has more than 25 years legal and commercial experience, mainly in the mining and energy sectors - joins Kagara from an executive role as Company Secretary and General Counsel with the leading ASX-listed copper and gold producer Straits Resources Limited, a position he held from 2008. Mr Hands' appointment is effective today.

Prior to joining Straits Resources, Mr Hands was Company Secretary and General Counsel with the West Australian electricity utilities SECWA, Western Power and Verve Energy. His work at Western Power included diverse transactional experience in many projects at a senior management level. These involved infrastructure works, general corporate and commercial matters and corporate governance.

Earlier in his career, Mr Hands held roles with the merchant bank AIDC Ltd in Sydney as well as in private practice.

Kagara Managing Director Geoff Day said Mr Hands brought extensive experience in commercial transactions, compliance, corporate governance and corporate management in listed resources companies. His appointment follows other recent high-calibre appointments to Kagara's leadership team in recent months.

'On behalf of Kagara, I extend my thanks to David Peterson for his significant contribution to the Company since it listed on the ASX in 1999,' Mr Day said.

'I also welcome Mark Hands as a member of Kagara's executive team and look forward to the Company benefiting from his knowledge and experience.'

As part of this executive transition, and reflecting Mr Peterson's extensive knowledge of the business, Mr Peterson has agreed to provide corporate advice to Kagara on a consultancy basis over the coming months.
