LAKEWOOD, CO -- (Marketwire) -- 03/06/12 -- Colorado Goldfields Inc. (OTCQB: CGFIA) (PINKSHEETS: CGFIA) announces that the Company has extended their Memorandum of Understanding ('MOU'), with American Sierra Gold Corp ('American Sierra') to August 31, 2012.

The MOU, which provides for customary due diligence, intends to make American Sierra a wholly owned subsidiary of Colorado Goldfields Inc. Existing shareholders of American Sierra will receive a ratio of restricted Colorado Goldfields Class A shares in exchange for their American Sierra shares.

American Sierra was incorporated in Nevada on January 30, 2007. It is focused on the acquisition, exploration, development, mining, and production of precious metals, with emphasis on gold and silver. The Company's plan of operation is to conduct mineral exploration activities in order to assess whether the sites possesses mineral deposits of gold or other precious metals in commercial quantities, capable of commercial extraction.

The Board of Directors of American Sierra views this merger as an opportunity to join forces with a company that has similarly aligned goals and values, and is farther down the execution road. Aside from the obvious economies of scale, the synergistic benefit is very high.

'We are, as a company, looking forward with great enthusiasm to joining forces with Colorado Goldfields toward accessing Colorado Goldfields' existing and new mining exploration and development opportunities, as well as the outstanding value-add presented by the much anticipated near-term launch of The Pride of the West Mill,' stated James Vandeberg, President and CEO of American Sierra Gold.

'The fact that American Sierra on behalf of the Company's over seven thousand shareholders showed this commitment to Colorado Goldfields strongly supports our business model and the course our company is taking. After four years of total and consistent dedication and perseverance in the face of a very challenging worldwide economic climate, the strategic expansion of our shareholder base and the strengthening of our capital base opens up new growth prospects for us and creates further potential for acquisitions,' said Stephen Guyer, CFO of Colorado Goldfields.

About Colorado Goldfields Inc.

Colorado Goldfields Inc. (OTCQB: CGFIA) (www.cologold.com) is a Denver-based junior exploration and mining company primarily exploring for gold and silver. Our seasoned management team targets historic gold camps with strong potential for multiple deposit discoveries. Currently, our business model in Colorado provides an outstanding combination of former producing properties with excellent exploration and production potential and a currently inactive, modern, up to 700 ton per day capacity mill facility to allow for an attractive short-term production time frame. We expect that this strategic plan will allow Colorado Goldfields to reach its goal of profitability, potentially within the next 18 months.
