About Fission

Fission is a Canadian based uranium exploration and development company with properties in Saskatchewan's Athabasca Basin, Quebec, and the Macusani District in Peru. In 2010, Fission made a significant high grade uranium discovery at its Waterbury Lake property immediately adjacent to Rio Tinto's (formerly Hathor Exploration's) Roughrider Deposit, and in 2011 made a high grade boulder field discovery at its Patterson Lake South property. Both are located in Saskatchewan's Athabasca Basin, home of the richest uranium deposits in the world.

About Pitchstone

Pitchstone is a uranium exploration company operating in three districts in Canada and Namibia. The property portfolio features 13 projects in the eastern Athabasca Basin, Saskatchewan, five of which are 100% owned. In addition, there are two joint venture projects in Namibia and several joint venture projects in the Hornby Bay Basin, Nunavut.

Details of the Combined Entity

The combined entity creates the most significant uranium exploration property position held by a junior company in the Athabasca Basin with a large number of high priority targets. As a result of the Transaction, Fission will also benefit from exposure to other important uranium jurisdictions including the Erongo region of Namibia, the Macusani region of Peru and the Hornby Bay Basin in Nunavut. Despite a challenging market environment in the uranium exploration sector, Fission is well financed to continue exploration of these properties.
