HAYDEN, ID, March 21, 2013 /CNW/ - Americas Bullion Royalty Corp. (TSX: AMB) (the "Company") is pleased to announce that it has entered into an option agreement to sell the Company's 40% joint venture interest in the Phoenix Property in Nevada to Battle Mountain Gold Inc., a private corporation ("BMG"). As consideration, BMG will pay $50,000 in cash and issue two million common shares at a value of $0.15 per share at closing, $50,000 in cash six months after closing and $1.6 million in cash or BMG common stock, assuming certain minimum valuations, twelve months after closing.

About Phoenix

The Phoenix Joint Venture Project, a/k/a the Lewis Property, is directly contiguous with the Phoenix Mine placed into production by Newmont Mining in late 2006. Previous operators at Lewis focused their exploration efforts on the Virgin Zone, a major structural-stratigraphic corridor which hosts a portion of the mineralization at Newmont's adjacent Phoenix Mine. Their programs confirmed that the Virgin Zone extends onto the Lewis Property within a similar geological environment, for up to 4.5 km of potential strike length. 224 drill holes have been drilled on the project by the Operator of the Joint Venture.

The Company's Agreement with BMG has received regulatory approval.
