

Concordia Completes the Sale of its Investment in Western Lithium

24.09.2013 | Marketwired

VANCOUVER, BRITISH COLUMBIA -- (Marketwired - Sep 24, 2013) - Concordia Resource Corp. (TSX VENTURE:CCN)("Concordia" or the "Company") announces that it has completed the sale of 28,540,393 common shares owned by it in the capital of Western Lithium USA Corp. ("WLC" or "Western Lithium") for net proceeds of $2.85 million which sale was previously disclosed in the Company's news release dated September 13, 2013. The sale concludes the Company's obligations under the Sale and Purchase Agreement between Concordia and Western Lithium (see the Company's news release dated March 11, 2011), where Concordia agreed to dispose of its common shares in the capital of WLC to such persons as identified by management of WLC as strategic investors.

Terry Krepiakevich, Interim CEO of Concordia, commented: "Considering the challenging market conditions and contractual constraints for the sale of our investment, we are pleased to monetize our non-core asset and focus on other opportunities currently being evaluated by the Company."

The proceeds from the sale will strengthen Concordia's treasury as it continues to evaluate a growing list of opportunities as equity markets remain weak.
