

Cub Energy Inc. Commences Drilling of the RK-22 Well in Ukraine

24.10.2013 | Marketwired

HOUSTON, TEXAS--(Marketwired - Oct 24, 2013) - Cub Energy Inc. ("Cub", or the "Company") (TSX VENTURE:KUB) announces it has commenced drilling of the Rusko-Komarovske-22 ("RK-22") development well on the Rusko-Komarovske ("RK") licence in western Ukraine. Cub is the owner and operator of the RK-22 and has a 100% working interest in the RK licence.

RK-22 Well

The RK-22 well is the first well for Cub to drill on the RK licence and has a planned total depth ("TD") of 1,900 metres. The main objective of the RK-22 well is to target the middle Miocene Lukovskaya, Dorobratovskaya and Badenian sands, which are locally referred to as the L-1, L-2, D-1 through D-5 and B-1 through B-5 sands as seen in the Company's RK-2 and RK-6 legacy wells.

The RK-22 location is approximately 640 metres northwest of the RK-2 well and was identified by 3-D seismic acquired by Cub in early 2013. The Company has contracted with Burtekhlogiya LLC for use of their ZJ20 drilling rig. The RK-22 well is being drilled with the ZJ20 and is expected to take approximately twenty-five days to reach TD.

Reader Advisory

Except for statements of historical fact, this news release contains certain "forward-looking information" within the meaning of applicable securities law. Forward-looking information is frequently characterized by words such as "plan", "expect", "project", "intend", "believe", "anticipate", "estimate" and other similar words, or statements that certain events or conditions "may" or "will" occur. Cub believes that the expectations reflected in the forward-looking information are reasonable; however there can be no assurance those expectations will prove to be correct. We cannot guarantee future results, performance or achievements. Consequently, there is no representation that the actual results achieved will be the same, in whole or in part, as those set out in the forward-looking information.

Forward-looking information is based on the opinions and estimates of management at the date the statements are made, and are subject to a variety of risks and uncertainties and other factors that could cause actual events or results to differ materially from those anticipated in the forward-looking information. Some of the risks and other factors that could cause the results to differ materially from those expressed in the forward-looking information include, but are not limited to: general economic conditions in the Ukraine, Turkey and globally; industry conditions, including fluctuations in the prices of natural gas; governmental regulation of the natural gas industry, including environmental regulation; unanticipated operating events or performance which can reduce production or cause production to be shut in or delayed; failure to obtain industry partner and other third party consents and approvals, if and when required; competition for and/or inability to retain drilling rigs and other services; the availability of capital on acceptable terms; the need to obtain required approvals from regulatory authorities; stock market volatility; volatility in market prices for natural gas; liabilities inherent in natural gas operations; competition for, among other things, capital, acquisitions of reserves, undeveloped lands, skilled personnel and supplies; incorrect assessments of the value of acquisitions; geological, technical, drilling, processing and transportation problems; changes in tax laws and incentive programs relating to the natural gas industry; failure to realize the anticipated benefits of acquisitions and dispositions; and the other factors. Readers are cautioned that this list of risk factors should not be construed as exhaustive.

This cautionary statement expressly qualifies the forward-looking information contained in this news release. We undertake no duty to update any of the forward-looking information to conform such information to actual results or to changes in our expectations except as otherwise required by applicable securities legislation. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on forward-looking information.
