Interim Court Order Obtained; Mailing of Materials for Special Shareholder Meeting on November 29, 2013 is Imminent

VANCOUVER, BRITISH COLUMBIA -- (Marketwired - Nov 1, 2013) - Concordia Resource Corp. ("Concordia" or the "Company") (TSX VENTURE:CCN) is pleased to provide an update on its previously announced corporate reorganization transaction that will transform it into a company focused on high-technology exploration deploying breakthrough proprietary geophysical technology and expertise (the "Transaction") (see the Company's press release of October 1, 2013, including for capitalized terms not defined in this press release).

Since the October 1, 2013 announcement, the Company confirms that the Transaction has proceeded in due course.

On October 25, 2013, the British Columbia Supreme Court granted an interim order approving the calling of a special meeting of securityholders to approve the Plan of Arrangement. If approved, the Plan of Arrangement will give effect to the previously announced 5:1 share consolidation, and the spin-out of the Company's Providencia and Cerro Amarillo properties and an estimated $5 million, into its newly incorporated subsidiary Meryllion Resources Corporation ("Meryllion"). The common shares of Meryllion will be distributed to Concordia shareholders.

An Information Circular for the special meeting of securityholders, which is to be held on November 29, 2013, is to be mailed on November 4, 2013 to securityholders to vote on the matters relating to the Transaction.

On completion, the Transaction would consolidate 100% ownership of the Ebende Ni-Cu-Co-PGM Project (Democratic Republic of Congo); result in the Company acquiring an option to earn up to 95% interest in the Fairholme copper-gold porphyry exploration project (Australia); give Concordia access to HPX TechCo's geophysical technology cluster; and spin out the Company's current Argentinian portfolio of projects into a new, South American focused explorer, Meryllion. HPX TechCo would then be the owner of 85% of the common shares of Concordia.

Salman Partners Inc. has also provided their preliminary sponsor report to the TSX Venture Exchange.
