

Discovery Minerals, Ltd. Updates Website

04.12.2013 | Marketwired

RENO, NV--(Marketwired - Dec 4, 2013) - Discovery Minerals Ltd. (OTC Pink: DSCR) is pleased to tell their valued Shareholders that the technical matters adversely affecting the corporate website have been resolved. The Company was alerted to this matter by input from Shareholders and would like to extend its gratitude. A provisional website is expected to be active within the next 24 hours (www.discoveryminerals.com) and the full website will be operational by next week. The website's content will continue to be expanded during the coming weeks as the Company progresses towards the rollout of its new technology applications.

The forthcoming application will provide the Company and Shareholders with a dynamic means of distributing and receiving corporate information. Russell Smith, Discovery Minerals' CEO, stated, "Our application will be a real-time information tool concerning the many facets associated with the exploration and subsequent production of mining properties, along with other corporate ventures." Mr. Smith went on to comment, "Being web and mobile app-based, the application will integrate technology and social media for the benefit of the Shareholders and Company alike through transparency and accurate data."

"The newly-revamped website should function as a powerful vehicle for investors to learn about the company's business and also see the direction the company is headed," added Henry Manayan, Discovery's Chief Operating Officer. Mr. Manayan also said, "The Company is quite eager to use its technology app to share up-to-the-minute exciting news and business developments with its shareholders and interested parties."
