

Hinto Energy, Inc. Announces Production Increase

29.04.2014 | Marketwired

DENVER, CO -- (Marketwired - Apr 29, 2014) - Hinto Energy Inc. (OTCQB: HENI) announces increase in production from its Mason Lakes, Montana oil field.

George Harris, the Company's Chief Executive Officer, remarked, "After weather delays resulting from the very severe winter, we are extremely pleased to announce progress in our re-work and production enhancement efforts in the Mason Lake Field in Montana and are now producing between 20 to 25 barrels of oil per day. In early May we will increase pumping capacity of one well by an estimated factor of 5. After evaluating the benefit of this initial pumping upgrade, additional pumping upgrades are expected to be deployed. Although delayed, the anticipated field potential is starting to be realized. The Company expects to see an increase in its production levels during the second quarter at the field and is making progress in meeting field production goals."

The Company is also focusing on re-work efforts at its Cisco holdings in Utah and plans to rework its Natural Buttes gas well. The Company is continuing to evaluate opportunities to expand its well and lease holdings in Montana, Colorado, Utah and Wyoming.

Hinto Energy, Inc. engages in the exploration, acquisition, and development of oil and gas properties, with current properties in Utah and Montana encompassing approximately 15,000 acres and 40 wells. The Company is based in Greenwood Village, Colorado.
