

WestMountain Gold Opens Processing and Testing Facility in Anchorage

28.01.2015 | ACCESS Newswire

SANDPOINT, ID / ACCESSWIRE / January 28, 2015 / WestMountain Gold, Inc. ("WestMountain") (OTCQB: WMTN), a mineral exploration and development company announces the establishment of a testing and processing facility for the Terra Project in Anchorage Alaska.

As part of ongoing Terra Project development and planning, WestMountain Gold, Inc. has commenced operations of this facility which includes a warehouse and storage yard and will house processing, recovery and metallurgical testing equipment and serve as the project staging area. The Company will utilize the facility in the coming months to process concentrate from last year's season, providing some additional cash flow to the Company in the near term.

WestMountain Gold CEO Greg Schifrin commented, "We are pleased to begin operations at this facility and believe it is critical to understanding the dynamics of the metallurgy as well optimizing future gold processing and recovery efforts at Terra. We have been planning on implementing this facility since mid 2014 and are glad to finally be underway."
