(1) Certain financial and operating information included in this press release for the quarter and year ended December 31, 2014, such as finding and development costs, production information, operating netbacks, recycle ratios and net asset value calculations are based on unaudited financial results for the year ended December 31, 2014 and are subject to the same limitations as discussed under forward-looking statements outlined at the end of this release. These estimate amounts may change upon completion of the audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 and those changes may be material.

(2) Artek calculates finding, development and acquisition costs which incorporate the costs and associated reserve additions and changes in future development costs related to acquisitions and dispositions. Since acquisitions and divestitures have had a significant impact on Artek's annual reserve replacement costs, Artek believes that FD&A costs provide a meaningful portrayal of Artek's cost structure.

PRODUCTION

Artek achieved record production levels in 2014. Average production for 2014 was 4,203 boe/d (39% liquids) an increase of 14% over 2013 average production of 3,697 boe/d (37% liquids). Average production for the fourth quarter of 2014 was 4,942 boe/d (44% liquids), up 23% from average production of 4,025 boe/d (34% liquids) in the fourth quarter of 2013. December 2014 exit production was 5,655 boe/d of which in excess of 2,600 bbl/d or 46% was crude oil and natural gas liquids.

RESERVES

The reserves data set forth below is based upon an independent reserves assessment and evaluation prepared by Sproule with an effective date of December 31, 2014 (the "Sproule Report"). The following presentation summarizes the Company's crude oil, natural gas liquids and natural gas reserves and the net present values before income tax, of future net revenue for the Company's reserves using forecast prices and costs based on the Sproule Report. The Sproule Report has been prepared in accordance with the standards contained in the COGE Handbook and the reserve definitions contained in NI 51-101.

All evaluations and reviews of future net cash flows are stated prior to any provisions for interest costs or general and administrative costs and after the deduction of estimated future capital expenditures for wells to which reserves have been assigned. It should not be assumed that the estimates of future net revenues presented in the tables below represent the fair market value of the reserves. There is no assurance that the forecast prices and cost assumptions will be attained and variances could be material. The recovery and reserve estimates of our crude oil, natural gas liquids and natural gas reserves provided herein are estimates only and there is no guarantee that the estimated reserves will be recovered. Actual crude oil, natural gas and natural gas liquids reserves may be greater than or less than the estimates provided herein.

See "Information Regarding Disclosure on Oil and Gas Reserves and Operational Information" for additional cautionary language, explanations and discussions and "Forward Looking Information and Statements" for a statement of principal assumptions and risks that may apply.

Capital Efficiency Highlights - 2014

The efficiency of the Company's capital program for the year ended December 31, 2014 is summarized below. NI 51-101 specifies how finding and development ("F&D") costs should be calculated if they are reported. Essentially NI 51-101 requires that the exploration and development costs incurred in the year along with the change in estimated future development costs be aggregated and then divided by the applicable reserve additions. The calculations specifically exclude the effects of acquisitions and dispositions on both reserves and costs. By excluding the effects of acquisitions and dispositions, Artek believes that F&D costs do not fully reflect Artek's ongoing reserve replacement costs. Since acquisitions and dispositions can have a significant impact on Artek's annual reserve replacement costs, Artek believes that finding, development and acquisition ("FD&A") costs provide a meaningful portrayal of Artek's cost structure.

Artek achieved all in FD&A costs of $11.36 (2013 - $14.84) per boe on Proved plus Probable reserves and $17.04 (2013 - $27.39) per boe on Proved reserves including future development costs (″FDC″). FD&A costs for the last three years averaged $13.06 per boe on a Proved and Probable basis and $19.68 per boe on Proved reserves including FDC. F&D costs including FDC but excluding acquisitions and dispositions were $13.04 (2013 - $15.68) per boe on a Proved plus Probable basis and $19.74 (2013 - $30.71) per boe on a Proved basis. F&D costs including FDC but excluding acquisitions and dispositions for the last three years averaged $13.42 per boe on a Proved and Probable basis and $20.52 on Proved reserves including FDC.

Notes:

1. The aggregate of the exploration and development costs incurred in the most recent financial year and the change during that year in estimated future development costs generally will not reflect total finding and development costs related to reserve additions for that year.
2. 2014 figures include information based on estimated unaudited financial results that may change on the completion of the audited financial statements.
3. Calculated by dividing the 2014 reserve additions by the 2014 total production.

LAND HOLDINGS

The Company retained an independent third party to assess the fair market value of the Company's undeveloped land holdings as at December 31, 2014. The evaluation was completed by Seaton-Jordan & Associates Ltd. using industry activity levels, third party transactions and land acquisitions that occurred in proximity to Artek's undeveloped lands during the past year. The independent land evaluation report indicates a value of $50.4 million. Artek increased its net undeveloped land holdings by approximately 23% in 2014.

A summary of the Company's land holdings at December 31, 2014 is outlined below:

CAUTIONARY STATEMENTS

Unaudited financial information

Certain financial and operating information included in this press release for the quarter and year ended December 31, 2014, such as finding and development costs, production information and net asset value, are based on estimated unaudited financial results for the quarter and year then ended, and are subject to the same limitations as discussed under Forward Looking Information set out below. These estimated amounts may change upon the completion of audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014 and changes could be material.

Information Regarding Disclosure on Oil and Gas Reserves and Operational Information

Our oil and gas reserves statement for the year ended December 31, 2014, which will include complete disclosure of our oil and gas reserves and other oil and gas information in accordance with NI 51-101, will be contained within our Annual Information Form which will be available on our SEDAR profile by March 31, 2015 at www.sedar.com. In relation to the disclosure of estimates of reserves and reserve values relating to individual properties that represent less than all of the Company's reserves, such estimates may not reflect the same confidence level as estimates of reserves and future net revenue for all properties, due to the effects of aggregation.

In relation to the disclosure of net asset value ("NAV"), the NAV table shows what is normally referred to as a "produce-out" NAV calculation under which the current value of the Company's reserves would be produced at forecast future prices and costs and do not necessarily represent a "going concern" value of the Company. The value is a snapshot in time and is based on various assumptions including commodity prices and foreign exchange rates that vary over time. It should not be assumed that the future net revenues estimated by Sproule represent the fair market value of the reserves, nor should it be assumed that Artek's estimated value of its undeveloped land holdings represent the fair market value of the lands.

BOE Conversions: Barrel of oil equivalents or BOEs may be misleading, particularly if used in isolation. A BOE conversion ratio has been calculated using a conversion rate of six thousand cubic feet of natural gas to one barrel. This conversion ratio of six thousand cubic feet of natural gas to one barrel is based on an energy equivalent conversion method primarily applicable at the burner tip and does not represent a value equivalency at the wellhead. Given that the value ratio based on the current price of crude oil as compared to natural gas is significantly different from the energy equivalency of 6:1, utilizing a conversion ratio on a 6:1 basis may be misleading as an indication of value.

Artek is a Calgary, Alberta based oil and gas exploration, development and production company whose shares are traded on The Toronto Stock Exchange under the trading symbol "RTK".
