

- $47MM sale of non-core Wyoming CBM assets
- Continued focus on de-levering and creating liquidity

NEW YORK, June 16, 2015 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Warren Resources Inc. (Nasdaq:WRES) today announced the execution of agreements to divest its Atlantic Rim CBM assets to Escalera Resources, Co. (Nasdaq:ESCR). Under the terms of the transaction agreements, Warren will sell all of its interests in its shallow depth coal bed methane assets, which are located in the Atlantic Rim area of the Washakie Basin in Carbon County, Wyoming, appurtenant midstream pipeline assets, and an undivided 30% of its interest in certain deep rights associated with Warren's former leases in the Atlantic Rim area, to Escalera with an effective date of April 1, 2015. The total purchase price for these assets will be $47 million, with $42 million payable in cash at closing. Following consummation of the transaction, Warren will retain 70% of the operated deep rights associated with Warren's former leases in the Atlantic Rim area, across 68,700 gross acres, which are currently being evaluated for potential upside in a number of the deep formations present. The sale is subject to closing conditions and adjustments, including completion of the purchaser's financing.

Lance Peterson, Warren's Interim Chief Executive Officer, said: "We are extremely pleased to announce the sale of our Atlantic Rim assets to Escalera. This strategic divestiture is another important step forward in our continuing strategy to give Warren the ability to transact on future high growth opportunities as we further reduce debt and increase our liquidity."

With the closing of the transaction, Warren expects that its pro forma available liquidity will increase to approximately $61 million. Mr. Peterson said: "Upon Warren's recent closing of our refinancing with GSO Capital Partners and Franklin Square Capital Partners, we highlighted the benefits of having a credit agreement that gives Warren the flexibility to divest non-core properties, including the Atlantic Rim CBM assets which represent less than 10% of Warren's 2014 EBITDA pro forma the Marcellus acquisition, and pay down debt with the option to re-draw funds in the future at a nominal cost. Closing this transaction with Escalera will allow us to take advantage of that flexibility to continue deleveraging the company, thereby reducing interest expense and to access additional liquidity available in the future as we implement our growth strategy."

Mr. Peterson commented: "Divesting our Wyoming assets fits into Warren's corporate mission to shift our focus toward pursuit of the high-growth, strategic acquisition opportunities for the Company. Over the past six months we've worked methodically to right-size CAPEX, capture G&A and LOE savings, align ourselves with a strong financial partner, retire debt, and sell non-core assets – together, all these measures boost the Company's liquidity and position us for growth."

Warren has scheduled a conference call to discuss the transaction at 11:00 a.m. EDT today.
