

Vancouver, BC / TheNewswire / Cardiff Energy Corp. (the "Company") (TSX-V: "CRS", Frankfurt: "C2Z.F", US Pinksheets: "CRRDF")

is pleased to announce that it has signed a definitive agreement with Murphree Oil LLC ("Murphree") to acquire an additional 700 acre lease in Runnels County, Texas. The geological report on the new 700 acre parcel indicates there are multi-zone features with oil and gas development potential. The zones of interest include: Gardner Lime, Capps Lime, Palo Pinto Lime, Jennings Sand, and Dog Bend Lime. These zones are also present in the lease that the Company currently owns and where the Clayton # 1H is being drilled.

The Company now controls close to 1200 acres of land for drill ready exploration in Runnels County. The full development of the 1200 acres will include both horizontal and vertical drilling as well as re-entry to zones in existing well bores not previously produced. The geological study indicates there are more than 15-20 targets to be drilled to develop both properties to their full potential.

The Company is also pleased to announce that they have signed a significant 5 year AMI (Area of Mutual Interest) Agreement with Murphree for lands surrounding the 700 acre lease. This agreement allows the Company to have first right on any lands in the AMI to do its own geological study and if it fits the goals of the Company, purchase the lease (or leases) from Murphree.

Jack Bal, President states "with leases secured and a significant AMI Agreement in place for future development the Company is positioned for an exciting oil and gas drilling and production program."

To update shareholders on the status of the Clayton #1H, the drilling phase continues and the Clayton #1H will be completed in the Gardner Lime as a horizontal well. The Company's previous new release anticipated completion of the drilling of the Clayton #1H by now. However, due to complications during the drilling process the time line has been extended. Upon completion and testing of the Clayton #1H a flow rate will be reported.
