HENDERSON, NV / ACCESSWIRE / August 18, 2015 / AIM Exploration, Inc. ("AIM" or the "Company") (OTCQB:AEXE) is pleased to announce that it has received a Letter of Intent from Prina Energy Private Limited, complete with a bank capability letter, to purchase 500,000 Metric Tons of AIM's anthracite coal annually. The Letter of Intent is for a five year period and the product will be delivered to the port of Salaverry in Peru.

Prina Energy is a substantial coal trader with mines that they own or finance in Indonesia, Canada, South Africa and Colombia. They act as both a producer and buyer and supply coal to markets and consumers all across India. "This represents a significant turning point in terms of revenue and profitability for our company," stated Robert Todhunter, CEO of Aim Exploration, Inc., "This gives our company a strong buyer for our coal and can be used to develop and build a tremendous mining and logistics operation in Peru."

Under the current LOI, Prina Energy would take delivery of the coal at the port located in Salaverry, Peru. AIM will deliver 35,000 Metric Tons of coal per month from their three mining concessions located in Lima, Peru. This coal would then be exported by the buyer to India. The sales price is expected to be robust, and management believes the coal sales discussed in the LOI will help establish the long term viability and stability of the mining and logistical operations in Peru.
