

VANCOUVER, BRITISH COLUMBIA / TheNewswire / November 19, 2015 / MGX Minerals Inc. ("MGX" or the "Company") (CSE: XMG / FKT: 1MG) is pleased to report that mobilization is underway for the mining of a 100 tonne bulk sample at its flagship Driftwood Creek magnesium project ("Driftwood Creek"). The previously announced bulk sample program (see press release dated November 4, 2015) is expected to commence shortly. Equipment and field crews are scheduled to arrive on site at Driftwood Creek over the next few days, with commencement of the bulk sample program scheduled to begin next week, weather dependent.

The bulk sample is scheduled for transportation to the Industrial Furnace Company ("IFCO") in Rochester, New York for pilot plant testing. Results of pilot plant testing will determine final specifications to optimize the design and construction parameters of industrial-sized kilns to process magnesite from Driftwood Creek. MGX plans to make multi-tonne samples of caustic calcined magnesia (CCM) and dead-burned magnesia (DBM) available for sale to customers.

About MGX Minerals

MGX Minerals (CSE: XMG) is a diversified Canadian mining company listed on the Canadian Securities Exchange. MGX is engaged in the acquisition and development of industrial mineral deposits in western Canada that offer near-term production potential, minimal barriers to entry and low initial capital expenditures.

The Company's flagship project is the Driftwood Creek magnesium project in the East Kootenay region of British Columbia. The long-term strategic business objectives of the Company include constructing a quarry mine and processing plant to produce magnesium oxide from Driftwood Creek. The Driftwood Creek project is currently under permitting review for granting of a mining lease and applications for associated operating permits are in various stages of preparation. MGX owns the majority of significant magnesite properties in the Province of British Columbia as reported by the British Columbia Geological Service (British Columbia Mineral Titles Branch).
