

"Whiting's Wildcatters: Micro Scale, Macro Vision" -- an Oil & Gas 360(R) Documentary Debuts Today

DENVER, CO--(Marketwired - Jan 12, 2016) - Oil & Gas 360® invites you behind the scenes inside Whiting Petroleum Corp. (NYSE: WLL), where SVP of Exploration and Development Mark Williams and the Whiting geoscience team unveil a visionary project that the Whiting geoscientists have embarked upon.

Using two scanning electron microscope systems, Whiting has been able to significantly improve its well results in the Williston Basin. Being able to see the reservoir in a way that allows the company to make changes during the drilling of individual wells has resulted in some of Whiting's Bakken-Three Forks oil wells landing in North Dakota's record books.
