

TORONTO, ONTARIO--(Marketwired - Jan 18, 2016) - North American Palladium Ltd. ("NAP" or the "Company") (TSX:PDL)(OTC PINK:PALDF) today announced the appointment of Timothy J. Hill, CPA, CMA, MSF as its Interim Chief Financial Officer (CFO), following the resignation of Christine Napierala. Both changes are effective February 1st 2016. Christine Napierala has been the Company's CFO since the recapitalization of the Company in August 2015 and has been an employee of NAP since 2003. Ms. Napierala resigned to take a finance position in Thunder Bay outside of the mining industry.

"On behalf of the board and management I would like to thank Christine for her years of dedicated service to NAP in a series of progressive responsibilities and we wish her success in her future career," said Jim Gallagher, President and Chief Executive Officer.

Timothy Hill joined NAP in November 2015 as the Director of Business Improvement and Innovation and has been focused on costs reductions and strategic initiatives since then. Previous to NAP, Mr. Hill was the Manager - North Atlantic Business Planning for Vale Canada. In this role he coordinated the business plans for several mines, mills, smelters and refineries and also evaluated major capital expenditures and strategic projects for this area. Previous to this role within Vale, he was Finance Manager overseeing accounting and finance functions for Vale Canada as well as indirectly managing a large finance group in Brazil. Mr. Hill is a Chartered Public Accountant and a Certified Management Accountant. He graduated from the Queen's University of Belfast with a Master of Science (Finance) and from the University of Victoria with a Bachelor of Science (Economics).

"Tim brings a wealth of knowledge in financial accounting, reporting and business systems which will drive improvements in our processes at NAP. He will also continue his current relationships with our external supplier partners driving for efficiencies and cost reductions. We are excited about Tim's expanded role as we move our strategy forward," added Mr. Gallagher.
