

Gold Mining USA, Inc. Reaffirms Core Business

21.03.2016 | ACCESS Newswire

LITHIA, March 21, 2016 - Gold Mining USA, Inc. (OTC: GMUI) in a statement today reaffirmed the company's commitment to their core business of acquiring and developing mineral projects.

GMUI's business model is to acquire and develop properties with high potentials to prove up significant resources with exploratory drilling and thereafter generate shareholder value through development, joint ventures or divestment. For details on company mineral projects go to: <http://www.gmuiinc.com>

Maurice Byrne, Gold Mining USA President, stated, "We continue to expand our minerals and mining leadership team of highly qualified executives and consultants which now includes:

Mr. Laurence Olivier, GMUI Director, who was a Director of a South African corporation with extensive interests in mining, agriculture and property, and has been an independent consultant for 32 years; and

Dr Brian White who is an adjunct Professor of Mining Engineering at the University of Queensland and consults widely throughout the mining industry; and

Mr. Gavin Brown, a Civil Engineer and Project Manager with nearly 50 years of mining experience and is integral to the preparation of feasibility studies and assessment of new mining projects for GMUI in Australia and the USA; and

John Sainsbury, Geologist and Project Manager, a geologist with over 40 years of geological experience operated his own geology consulting business since 1998; and

Mr. Gary Lynch, Technical Consultant for Research and Development to GMUI, who brings a strong background in Industrial Chemistry and associated mining activities."

Byrne concluded, "These people each have long term proven records of outstanding achievement that are further detailed on our website at www.gmuiinc.com and we are proud that they lead our company's program to establish GMUI as a significant and profitable mining company."
