

QUEBEC CITY, QUEBEC--(Marketwired - Jun 14, 2016) - Monarques Gold Corp. ("Monarques" or the "Corporation") (TSX VENTURE:MQR) (FRANKFURT:MR7) is pleased to announce that Donald Trudel, P. Geo., B.Sc., has been appointed Chief Geologist for the Croinor Gold project.

"We are very pleased to welcome Donald to the Monarques team and to have someone of his caliber working on the Croinor Gold project," said Jean-Marc Lacoste, President and Chief Executive Officer. "The Corporation will benefit greatly from his extensive mine development and production experience."

Mr. Trudel has over 26 years of experience in economic geology, including the past five years working as a senior reserve and resource estimation geologist in West Africa. He has worked on more than 17 gold deposits, including 10 underground or open pit mines, and has been involved in all stages of a mining project, from exploration and development to production. He has worked for a number of mining companies, including Minnova, Inco, TVX Gold, Placer Dome, Richmond and, most recently, Semafo, and has held the positions of exploration geologist, production geologist and chief geologist. Over the years he has often been called upon to prepare resource and reserve estimates and participate in the preparation of 43-101 reports, prefeasibility studies and feasibility studies. Mr. Trudel graduated from Laval University in 1989 with a B.Sc. in geology.
