CASINO PROJECT UPDATE

Western submitted the Casino Project Proposal (the "Project Proposal") to the Yukon Environmental and Socio-economic Assessment Board ("YESAB") for assessment in January 2014. On February 18, 2016, the YESAB Executive Committee informed the Company that it is requiring that the Casino Project be reviewed by a panel (the "Panel Review"), the highest level of assessment carried out by YESAB. The first step in the process is for YESAB to provide Western with a list of required information through the release of the Environmental and Socio-Economic ("ESE") Statement Guidelines.

Western received the ESE Statement Guidelines on June 20, 2016 and is developing the schedule and budget required to meet the guideline requirements and prepare its ESE Statement. Once the Company submits its ESE Statement, YESAB will have 15 months to review the application and issue a decision.

Western continues to work with Federal, Territorial and First Nation governments on various aspects of the Casino Project. The Company has worked closely with the Territorial government on their submittal of the Yukon Resource Gateway Project proposal to the federal government under the National Infrastructure Component (NIC) of the New Building Canada Fund earlier this year. This proposal requests federal funding to support road construction that would directly benefit the Casino Project.

CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

Dale Corman, Western's Executive Chairman, provides a brief update and commodity market commentary in his letter to shareholders, which is available at www.westerncopperandgold.com/events/agm-2016.

"Copper inventories have fallen dramatically in the last few years both in real terms and as a percentage of total consumption. Warehouse stocks hit a 5 year low in April -- a condition which will surely continue unless there is a dramatic reduction in copper demand. On the supply side, production cut-backs, declining head grades, and the lack of new mines coming on stream suggest that a supply shortfall is in the making. It will take a decade, tens of billions of dollars and much higher copper prices to bring the supply back into balance with demand -- and we will be ready to meet that demand."

"Western as a company has an exceptionally qualified group of mining professionals that cover all aspects of mineral exploration and mine development. The team's track record of moving projects from the early stage through resource definition, pre-feasibility, feasibility and permitting sets us ahead of the pack as a mineral exploration and development company."

On behalf of the board,

"Paul West-Sells"
