

Clean Commodities Corp. Executes Labrador Trough Consolidation Strategy

19.07.2016 | FSCwire

Vancouver - Clean Commodities Corporation (TSX-V: CLE) ("Clean Commodities" or the "Corporation") is pleased to report that it has further executed its prior guidance to consolidate tenure in the Labrador Trough project area.

"Have no doubt; a full doubling of our district hold represents a squeeze on other's opportunities. With our entire project having exploration work requirements met through 2018, we anticipate value accretion from our decision to execute a tenure consolidation strategy in the noted area," stated Ryan Kalt, Chief Executive Officer of Clean Commodities.

In addition to the pre-existing ~28,495 ha (~70,382 acres) of Labrador Trough project tenure in Quebec, the Corporation has acquired a further ~23,698 ha (~58,534 acres), as represented by 489 Crown-granted claim cells.

Additional updated maps of the Labrador Trough PGE Project will be made available shortly on the Corporation's website, www.CleanCommodities.com.

Information on the Corporation's projects in the area may also be found in our news releases commencing as of May 25, 2016, on our website and as disclosed on SEDAR.

Further Tenure Disclosure

In addition to the tenure consolidation mapped above, the Corporation further discloses that it has acquired ~4,896 ha (~12,093 acres) encompassed by 101 Crown-granted mineral claim cells in proximity to the Corporation's Labrador Trough project and having favorable targets identified by the Corporation and its consultants. For strategic reasons, the Corporation will not be releasing a map of these additional tenures at the present time.

Terms

All additional project tenure disclosed above has been acquired by the Corporation through an arm's length exploration services company at a cost equating claim costs plus a 2% royalty.
