

TORONTO, Aug. 14, 2017 /CNW/ - RNC Minerals (TSX: RNX) ("RNC") has elected not to extend the option to acquire Westgold's South Kalgoorlie Operations ("SKO") that was granted to it in February 2017. The initial option period expired on August 13, 2017. RNC had the right to extend the option period for an additional six months by payment of A$4 million to Westgold.

The decision not to extend the option period has no impact on the 12 month toll-processing agreement that is in place between the parties, which runs until June 30, 2018.

Mark Selby commented, "At this point in time, we believe that an issuance of RNC equity to extend the SKO purchase option would not have been the right decision for our shareholders. We remain in constructive discussions with Westgold and other third parties regarding long-term milling alternatives for the Beta Hunt Mine."
