

SSR Mining update on Marigold Mine incident

02.11.2017 | CNW

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1, 2017 /CNW/ - SSR Mining Inc. (NASDAQ: SSRM) (TSX: SSRM) ("SSR Mining") provides an update on the incident that occurred at our Marigold mine in Nevada, U.S. on October 31, 2017.

Two of our Marigold mine employees, Pete Kuhn, a safety superintendent, and Omar Bernal, an open pit operator, were fatally injured as a result of contact between a haul truck and a van at the mine. The other eight individuals involved in the incident were taken to hospital with minor injuries and were subsequently released.

Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA) and other authorities are conducting a comprehensive investigation of the incident. SSR Mining is cooperating fully and will be conducting its own operational and safety review.

Paul Benson, President and CEO said, "All of us at SSR Mining are deeply saddened by these tragic events. Our immediate focus is on supporting the family and friends of our colleagues during this difficult time. The investigation is going to take some time to complete and we are doing all we can to support those efforts. We would also like to thank the mine rescue team and all those who responded to the incident for their invaluable help."

Mine operations remain suspended. Operations will only resume once management have conducted a site assessment and employees are briefed to ensure a safe mine restart.
