EDMONTON, Jan. 31, 2018 /CNW/ - Altiplano Minerals Ltd. (TSX-V:APN) (OTCQB:ALTPF) (FWB:9AJ1) ("APN" or the "Company") is pleased to provide an update for January's activities of its Farellon Copper-Iron-Gold Project at the Historic Mine, near La Serena Chile. The Company has completed the initial 2,000 tonne bulk sample of Cu-Fe-Au vein material. The Company has shipped a total of 867.19 tonnes of the bulk sample material for processing.

During January 2018, the Company removed 2,000 tonnes of Cu-Fe-Au vein material from the 395M Level drift for bulk processing. Processing results for the first 263.19 dry tonnes of the 2,000 tonne bulk sample are shown in Table 1 below. These results can be compared with the 395 M chip sample results in Table 2 below. The 395M results show that the chip sample results show an approximate average of 2.99% Cu and processing of the bulk sample shows a grade of 2.36% Cu for the first 263.19 dry tonnes. The Company estimates that the upper end of the grade range for the 395M zone is approximately 2.99% Cu and that dilution accounts for the differences observed.

CEO John Williamson stated, "Since commencement of the Farellon Project we have targeted an average grade of approximately 2% Cu as a benchmark for proceeding with a second larger 5,000 tonne bulk sample. Initial results for processing of the bulk sampling material have been very encouraging as our grab sampling, chip sampling, drilling and bulk sampling so far have confirmed that Farellon has the Cu grade to warrant further testing with an emphasis on grade control, costing and mineralization parameters to facilitate a technical report. Once all of the bulk sample material has been processed, we will determine the final grade of the zone."

*These results are released in their entirety on January 18, 2018.

As part of its ongoing program, Altiplano is carrying out the recommendations contained in the APEX Report of February 2018 filed on SEDAR for the exploration development of the Farellon project and is also relying upon past production records, underground sampling and related activities and current diamond drilling to estimate grade and widths of the mineralization. There are no mineral resources or reserves on the property and the current mineral exploration activities are intended to be part of a program to determine if mineral resources can be identified. No production decision has been made at this time. Should a production decision be made without completing a feasibility study demonstrating economic and technical viability, there will be increased uncertainty as well as economic and technical risks of failure associated with such a production decision.

Osbaldo Zamora Vega, P.Geol., Vice President of Exploration for Altiplano, is the Qualified Person as defined in National Instrument 43-101 who has reviewed and approved the technical contents of this press release.
