

GPM Metals Announces the Appointment of Peter Mullens as CEO

14.02.2018 | Marketwired

TORONTO, Feb. 14, 2018 - GPM Metals Inc. ("GPM" or the "Company") (TSX VENTURE: GPM) announces the appointment of Mr. Peter Mullens as CEO of GPM Metals effective February 15, 2018.

Patrick Sheridan Jr. will be stepping down as CEO and will remain as a significant shareholder. The Company wishes to thank Mr. Sheridan for his leadership and contributions.

Mr. Mullens has been involved with the Walker Gossan Project in Australia since inception in 2010 and returns to GPM to focus on this world class zinc - lead exploration opportunity.

Mr. Mullens, in association with Greg Duncan and Dan Noone, was responsible for negotiating the Walker Gossan Earn In / Option Agreement between Rio Tinto Exploration and DPG Resources Australia Pty Ltd which was acquired by GPM and in conjunction with Mr. Duncan negotiating the historic land access agreement for EL 24305 in July, 2015.

GPM holds an interest in a substantial package of prospective exploration licences and applications in the Walker Trough in Eastern Arnhem Land. The Walker Gossan project is located within the Mid Proterozoic Mt Isa and McArthur River provinces of Northern Australia, which host a number of World Class Base Metal Mines including Mt Isa, Century, George Fisher and HYC. The Walker Gossan project is located within Arnhem Land and has received little exploration since the 1960's. The project has the potential to host a world class Zinc Lead deposit.

Mr. Mullens has considerable experience in Pb and Zn exploration in the Northern Territory and Queensland having worked as a mine and exploration geologist at the George Fisher Zinc Mine in Mt. Isa, in addition to being engaged in regional exploration for sedex style Zn Pb deposits.

Mr. Mullens will manage all of GPM's activities in Australia as well as the company in Canada.

About GPM Metals Inc.
