

New Carolin Gold Corp. Engages Apex Geo Science Ltd.

13.03.2018 | The Newswire

Vancouver, March 13, 2018 - New Carolin Gold Corp. ("New Carolin" or "the Company") (TSX.V: LAD / OTCBB: LADFF) has engaged Apex Geoscience Ltd. to manage its upcoming exploration program at the Carolin Mine.

APEX is a privately-owned, independent geological consulting company that provides high quality, cost effective and timely geological consulting services to exploration companies, government and non-government organizations. APEX has experience in all aspects of the mineral exploration industry from initial assessment and NI 43-101 reporting through to mining including the identification and outlining of resources. They specialize in managing large mine site and exploration databases; and digital capture of historic datasets and combining with modern geological, geochemical and drill datasets to create concise 2D and 3D models that result in discovery and expansion of resources."

APEX will manage all aspects of the exploration and drilling programs planned at the Carolin Mine. In anticipation of commencing the drill program, Apex have reviewed and analyzed the project's historic data and geological models and provided extensive commentary and recommendations for the project. Management believes the Company is fortunate to have engaged this qualified geological consulting group with considerable technical and exploration management expertise and looks forward to getting it's much anticipated drill program underway.
