("BlockCo"), to provide for the completion of a business combination with the Company (the "Transaction"), as more particularly described below. The Transaction was initially announced in a Company press release dated June 13, 2018, indicating the Company and BlockCo had entered into a binding letter of intent in respect of the Transaction. The combined entity (the "Resulting Issuer") will continue the business of BlockCo, being a technology issuer with a focus on developing blockchain-based software technologies and applications.

The Transaction is subject to a number of terms and conditions as set forth in the Definitive Agreement, including (among other things) the approval of the TSX Venture Exchange (the "Exchange"). If completed, the Transaction will constitute a "Change of Business" transaction pursuant to Policy 5.2 – Changes of Business and Reverse Takeovers (Policy 5.2) of the Exchange.

The Transaction

Pursuant to the Definitive Agreement, the Company will acquire all of the issued and outstanding securities of BlockCo from its shareholders in exchange for 16,600,000 common shares of the Company at the closing of the Transaction for aggregate deemed consideration of $13,612,000 (based on the price of $0.82 per share, being the last closing price of the common shares of the Company prior to the announcement of the Transaction). Upon completion of the Transaction, BlockCo will become a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company and the Company will change its name to "Helix Applications Inc." or such other name as the parties may reasonably agree upon.

The Transaction is conditional upon, among other things:

1. the confirmation of representations and warranties of each of the Company and BlockCo as set out in the Definitive Agreement being true and correct at the closing of the Transaction;
2. the absence of any material adverse change in the condition (financial or otherwise), of the assets of each of the parties;
3. the parties receiving all requisite regulatory approval, including the approval of the Exchange, and any third party approvals and authorizations;
4. the parties obtaining requisite board approvals for the Transaction;
5. each of the parties required by the Exchange entering into an escrow agreement upon the terms and conditions imposed pursuant to the policies of the Exchange;
6. Belvedere completing one or more private placement financings for minimum aggregate gross proceeds of not less than $2,000,000 (see the Company's August 27, 2018, June 20, 2018 and June 14, 2018 press releases); and
7. the Resulting Issuer meeting the applicable Initial Listing Requirements of the Exchange as a Technology Issuer (pursuant to Policy 2.1 – Initial Listing Requirements of the Exchange).

Sponsorship of a "Change of Business" transaction is required by the Exchange unless an exemption or waiver from sponsorship requirement is available. The Company intends to apply for an exemption from the sponsorship requirements pursuant to the policies of the Exchange.

The Company is preparing and will submit a filing statement in connection with the Transaction in due course (the "Filing Statement").

About BlockCo and its Business

As initially disclosed in the Company's June 13, 2018 press release, BlockCo is a technology company incorporated under the Canada Business Corporations Act, with a focus on developing blockchain-based software technologies and applications. Its first project is the development of a blockchain software application for trucking and logistics businesses (the "Trucking Application"). This Trucking Application aims to provide a low-cost software for small and medium sized trucking companies that either deliver or collect along the same or similar routes. This software allows those companies the ability to visualize their routes on a map and make changes digitally, rather than on paper, as many have done in the past.

BlockCo has a working demo of this Trucking Application. It is believed this will be one of the first blockchain-based products to be sold in the market. Once the Trucking Application is operational and commercialized, BlockCo expects to develop other blockchain-based software applications, targeting other industries.

On June 11, 2018, BlockCo undertook a number of transactions by which in exchange for common shares of BlockCo, it acquired 100% of the intellectual property and interests in the Trucking Application, along with other intellectual property that BlockCo may apply to future blockchain applications, from Tom Thompson (a founder, President and holder of 79% of the outstanding shares of BlockCo), from Brad Dunne (a founder, Secretary and treasurer and holder of 18% of the outstanding shares of BlockCo) and from a third party.

Financial information regarding BlockCo for the period ended July 31, 2018 is now available, and provides the following: (i) as at July 31, 2018, BlockCo had assets of $1,952,014 (of which $1,928,512 is comprised of intellectual property) and liabilities of $6,935; and (ii) for the period of seven months ending July 31, 2018, BlockCo had no revenues and expenses of $136,133. This financial information is unaudited at this time, but will be included in the Filing Statement and will be presented on an audited basis.
