24.01.2019 | PR Newswire

BRISTOL, Jan. 24, 2019 - Contura Energy Inc. (NYSE: CTRA), a leading U.S. coal supplier, today announced production and operational guidance for full-year 2019.

"Through the completion of our recent merger with Alpha Natural Resources, Contura's operational scale, production facilities and experienced workforce combine to create the premier met coal supplier in the U.S., complemented by a cost-effective thermal coal portfolio," said Kevin Crutchfield, chief executive officer. "Contura is well positioned within both domestic and international markets for an active and successful 2019."

The company expects total 2019 coal shipments to be in the range of 24.6 million to 26.7 million tons across all operations, including 12.2 million to 12.8 million tons of captive Central Appalachia (CAPP) metallurgical coal, 4.6 million to 5.2 million tons of CAPP thermal coal, and 1.0 million to 1.5 million tons of metallurgical coal through its Trading and Logistics segment. Non-captive Appalachia (NAPP) shipments, sold primarily into thermal markets, are anticipated to be between 6.8 million and 7.2 million tons.

As of January 7, 2019, approximately 40% of the midpoint of anticipated 2019 CAPP metallurgical coal shipments were committed and priced at an average expected per-ton realization of $123.10, with an additional 26% committed and either unpriced or priced based on various indices. Based on the midpoint of guidance, 90% of anticipated 2019 NAPP coal shipments were committed and priced at an average expected per-ton realization of $43.10 and the CAPP thermal segment had 81% of its anticipated shipments committed and priced at $54.60 per ton.

Contura expects its 2019 CAPP metallurgical coal segment cost of coal sales per ton to range from $79.00 to $83.00 and its thermal coal cost of sales to be between $50.00 and $54.00 per ton, excluding idle costs. NAPP cost estimates are projected to be between $34.00 and $37.00 per ton. Additionally, costs related to the company's idle operations are expected to be between $20 million and $30 million for full-year 2019.

The margin from Contura's Trading and Logistics platform is expected to average $8.00 to $12.00 per ton for the full-year 2019.

Contura's capital expenditures for 2019 are expected to be in the range of $170 million to $190 million, including approximately $60 million planned for growth projects and reserve replacement. SG&A cost is estimated at $50 million to $60 million, including annual incentive bonuses, but excluding one-time and non-recurring items and stock compensation. The company expects cash interest expense to be between $40 million and $44 million. Depreciation, depletion and amortization for 2019 will be provided after the purchase price allocation on the merger is completed.
