PHOENIX, AZ / ACCESSWIRE / March 12, 2019 / Uptick Newswire Stock Day Podcast welcomed Kerr Mines Inc. (OTCQB: KERMF) (TSX: KER) ("the Company"), an emerging American Gold Producer currently advancing the 100% owned, fully permitted past-producing Copperstone Mine project to production. CEO of Kerr Mines Inc., Claudio Ciavarella, joined Stock Day host Everett Jolly.

Jolly began the interview by asking Ciavarella to provide listeners with a bit of background information on the Company and their recent projects. Ciavarella explained that the Company is a single-asset, high-grade gold mine with a significant land package in Arizona. The Company's current projects are fully permitted and are even being adapted to take advantage of newly uncovered opportunities.

Jolly then asked about the Company's flagship project, the Copperstone Mine. "2019 is our transition year as we progress into production.", stated Ciavarella. He further explained that the Company's objectives include lengthening the life of the mine to around eight years. With the infrastructure in place and permit modifications in process, the Company expects production to begin in 2020.

Ciavarella also explained that the Company has increased its recovery rate and reduced their cost structure, which will both help to increase revenues.

Jolly then inquired about the Company's upcoming revenues. Ciavarella shared that the Company has raised substantial funds to expand the mines and complete the permitting process. The Company will begin another set of funding within the next few months which will be used to develop the mines and make necessary modifications. This capital will set the Company up to complete its path to production, which will allow for revenues in 2020.

"There are numerous reasons why now would be a good time to participate in the Company.", stated Ciavarella. He continued by explaining that the Company is currently a year away from production, making it a great time for shareholders to step in. Their projects in Arizona offer high-grade gold mining with a low cost of production, maximizing their potential revenues. Ciavarella also shared that the Company's management team has a proven track record and has consistently achieved its milestones towards production.

"Our stock in 2019 is already up 30% in just the first few months of the year.", added Ciavarella. To close the interview he encouraged listeners to consider the Company's low stock price and to check out their abundant online resources.
