Liberty Star CEO Brett Gross comments: "Barney is the perfect addition to Liberty Star as we continue our quest to build the talent base to address all facets of the business. Barney brings exceptional credentials and expertise as a geologist, with additional specialization in economic geology, demonstrated by decades of valuable contributions to mining majors throughout the World. Now we stand to benefit from his focused expert attention on Liberty Star, beginning with our Hay Mountain Project and the enhanced 3D inversion analytics presently underway by Geotech, Ltd. (See Update Sept. 30). In recent discussions in that regard, we now expect Geotech's work product and report as soon as the week of October 28."
