Publicly traded energy companies, industry leaders and capital providers talk 2020 plans in Dallas

DENVER, Dec. 30, 2019 - Institutional investors, portfolio managers, financial analysts, CIOs and other investment community professionals who invest in the energy space should register now for the EnerCom Dallas energy investment conference, which is coming to The Tower Club February 11-12 in downtown Dallas.

EnerCom Dallas is a financial conference that allows institutional investors an early 2020 opportunity to hear and meet CEOs from leading independent E&Ps, including some of the industry's leading Permian, Eagle Ford, Marcellus, Utica and Canadian producers and the oilfield service companies supporting them, discuss plans to drive development, fund operations and return value to shareholders in 2020.

Registration for EnerCom Dallas is now open

Buyside professionals and oil and gas company executives may register for the event through the conference website.

2019 proved to be a year where the energy industry continued to adapt, have constructive dialogues with capital parties and find ways to generate returns for investors. Companies are focused on improving their operations and having a relentless drive to continually be better stewards of their assets and the capital.

"EnerCom Dallas will give the buyside community an early opportunity to hear the leading independent oil and gas producers and service companies present their plans for 2020," said Aaron Vandeford, President of EnerCom. "Growing public expectations around Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) has increased the emphasis by investors on making investments in companies that are actively addressing Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) concerns. EnerCom will look to help facilitate this dialogue at our Dallas conference ahead of the proxy season."

The EnerCom Dallas conference follows EnerCom's familiar 25-minute CEO presentation format, followed by 50-minute Q&A opportunities in separate breakout rooms, one-on-one meeting opportunities for buyside investors to meet company management teams, networking opportunities and global insight delivered by leading energy economists and strategists. The event also provides energy industry professionals a venue to learn about important energy topics affecting the global oil and gas industry. The conference offers healthy dialogue and informal networking opportunities for attendees and presenters.

EnerCom Dallas is in its fourth year. Last year's EnerCom Dallas conference featured hundreds of investment community and oil and gas industry attendees.
