AUSTIN, April 23, 2020 - SmallCapVoice.com (&#8220;SCV&#8221;), Inc. Tombstone Exploration Corp. (OTCQB:TMBXF) (&#8220;Tombstone&#8221;, &#8220;Tombstone Exploration&#8221;, or the &#8220;Company&#8221;), a fully reporting U.S. based mining company, announced that Alan Brown, Tombstone CEO and President, is featured in a new audio interview at SmallCapVoice.com.

The interview can be heard at: <https://www.smallcapvoice.com/podcast-tombstone-exploration-tmbxf/>.

In the interview, Brown highlights the current opportunity that Tombstone Exploration presents to current and potential investors. Given that the Company has now received all necessary permits required to begin full development and construction at its Harquahala Mine site, Brown has been fully engaged on location and was able to provide listeners with a detailed look into the process of bringing tangible gold to market from Harquahala, as well as several other promising mining sites in the Company&#8217;s portfolio.

Brown stated, &#8220;I wanted to provide my insights regarding all the recent news about the launching of construction and production activities at the Harquahala Mine. It is important to me that our current and prospective shareholders hear my excitement as we have truly made major strides over a short period of time.&#8221;

Gold has become an important story in the global asset landscape over recent months, driven higher by unprecedented monetary and fiscal stimulus measures taken by central banks and governments around the world to combat the economic fallout resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic. The fiat currency system is in uncharted territory right now, prompting Bank of America to raise its gold price target to $3,000/oz, casting a bright spotlight on junior gold miners with promising mining sites in development. Tombstone certainly qualifies, and Brown provides a number of interesting insights.
