SASKATOON, May 27, 2020 - Royal Helium Ltd. ("Royal" or the "Company") (TSXV: RHC) announces that it has signed a Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") with The Saskatchewan Research Council ("SRC") to review the development of an integrated, "poly-generation" facility for the production and refinement of helium and associated inert gases from helium-bearing gas production in southern Saskatchewan.

Andrew Davidson, President and CEO of Royal comments, "The goal is to develop and process Saskatchewan helium and associated inert gases right here in the province, producing high value, end-use products. Royal, a Saskatchewan-rooted helium exploration and development company, and SRC, Canada's second largest research and technology organization, share the vision of working together to advance a new industry for the Province. Saskatchewan is a province known to have a wealth of natural resources and Royal believes that the development and in-province refinement of helium and associated inert gases represents a new, high value business opportunity for its shareholders and the province of Saskatchewan."
