Operations Update:

- Average gross (100%) oil production of 14,200 bbl/d (working interest 9,300 bbl/d) in Q1 2020
- Average gross (100%) oil production of 4,300 bbl/d (working interest 2,800 bbl/d) for April 2020 and 3,800 bbl/d (working interest 2,500 bbl/d) for May 2020
- Production from the Banan field was shut-in on April 2, 2020 due to poor economics
 - Lower realised prices for production from the Banan field is due to higher oil quality discounts and higher per barrel facilities operating costs than other fields
 - Plan to install a pump in the Banan-4 well in the coming weeks which will significantly reduce operating expenses and justify a resumption of production in Q3 2020

- The worldwide outbreak of the COVID-19 virus, including within Iraq, has not caused any significant disruption of operations. The Corporation is taking precautions to protect its employees and contractors but does not at this time believe the virus outbreak will restrict operations

2020 Forecasted Work Program and Capital Expenditures:

2020 capital expenditures are forecasted to be $11 million (versus $53 million previous forecast). All previous planned activity has been deferred except the installation of a pump at the Banan field and minor infrastructure works in the Hawler area, certain studies in the AGC Central license area and license maintenance costs.

Liquidity Outlook:

- The Corporation expects cash on hand as of June 22, 2020 and cash receipts from net revenues from export sales to fund its 2020 forecasted capital expenditures and operating and administrative costs into the second half of 2020. Collection of overdue net revenues for the November 2019 to February 2020 period and/or working capital support from shareholders is required to be able to fund capital expenditures in the Hawler license area in 2021, to settle obligations currently due to suppliers, and to meet any contingent consideration obligations that become payable in 2020 or 2021.

CEO's Comment

Commenting today, Oryx Petroleum's Chief Executive Officer, Vance Querio, stated:

"During the first quarter of this year OP Hawler Kurdistan Limited produced more oil from the Hawler license area than in the first quarter of 2019. We identified potential new resources in the Tertiary reservoir in the eastern fault block of the Banan field while drilling of the Banan-1 well. And, we continued to operate safely, without any recordable incidents throughout the quarter, notwithstanding the restrictions imposed due to the COVID-19 outbreak. These positive results were unfortunately overshadowed by the price drop in crude oil prices that started during March and the deferral of payments for oil sales.

In the AGC Central license area, work continued toward completing the environmental and social impact study of the license area.

In response to the lower oil prices and deferred payments, we implemented steps to reduce expenditures including shutting down uneconomic production from the Banan field, reducing personnel costs and limiting near term capital expenditure activities.

We have deferred all drilling of new wells and discretionary facilities expenditures previously planned for 2020 until our production generation is restored as a result of a significant increase in oil price or restoration of the payment for past oil sales. We plan to replace some leased artificial lift systems in the Banan field, where we expect to restore production during the third quarter. We also plan to upgrade company owned facilities to significantly reduce direct operating expenses.

As a result of two separate transactions being contemplated, one between AOG and the Corporation and the other between the Corporation and two largest shareholders, shares in the entity holding our interest in the AGC Central license will be transferred to AOG. The settlement for the loan due to AOG and Zeg Oil and Gas Limited will acquire control of Oryx Petroleum. Upon closing of these transactions, the Corporation, at least in the near term, will be focused exclusively on the Kurdistan Region of Iraq and relieved of both the loan due to AOG and the drilling commitments associated with the AGC Central license.

We believe our improved financial position and reduced cost structure will allow us to maximise the value of the Hawler license area over the coming years. We are excited by our prospects for growth and look forward to an improved operating environment and increasing crude prices for the remainder of 2020."

- ● As announced earlier today, the Corporation and AOG International Holdings Limited have agreed that the International Holdings Limited will be settled in full in consideration of the transfer by the Corporation to AOG shares of OP AGC Central Limited, the wholly-owned subsidiary of the Corporation that holds the Corporation's interest in the AGC Central license area
 - The transaction is subject to customary closing conditions and is expected to close early in the third quarter of 2020.
 - The previously announced short term credit facility provided by AOG has been terminated. The Corporation has not drawn any amounts under the facility.
- The Corporation is obligated to make further payments to the vendor of the Hawler license area contingent upon the occurrence of a second commercial discovery in the Hawler license area.

The estimated fair value of the contingent consideration as at March 31, 2020 was $54.5 million. The estimated fair value of the contingent consideration was revised downwards by $1.9 million in Q4 2019 utilising the methodology adopted in Q3 2019 that incorporates weighted probabilities of potential outcomes, including an outcome where there is no second commercial declaration of discovery. As at March 31, 2020, the balance of principal and accrued interest potentially owed under the contingent consideration obligation was $56.4 million.
- As at June 22, 2020, a total of 552,481,662 common shares are outstanding. As at June 22, 2020 there are: i) unvested Term Incentive Plan awards which are expected to result in the issuance of up to an additional 28,862,475 common shares upon vesting, and ii) 39,281,804 warrants issued in connection with various amendments to the AOG Credit Facility.

2020 Capital Expenditure Forecast

Oryx Petroleum re-forecasted capital expenditures for 2020 are $11 million, reduced from the previously announced forecast of $53 million. The following table summarises the Corporation's 2020 forecasted capital expenditure program versus the previously announced forecast:
