Eric Roth, New Dimension's President and CEO, commented today: "I am very pleased to be announcing today the sal Argentine subsidiary, Minera Mariana, to Cerrado Gold. This agreement will allow the Las Calandrias project, in particulation benefit greatly from the exploration and operational expertise of the Don Nicolas team, with its geographical proximity to Nicolas' current mining/processing operations at Paloma and Martinetas also providing Las Calandrias with synergies future development.

With the divestiture of Minera Mariana, the Company will now be able to focus its activities on advancing its recently ac Scandinavian projects - the high-grade copper-rich Løkken and Kjøli massive sulfide projects in Norway, and the South Line orogenic gold project in Sweden - as well as its two Canadian high-grade gold Joint Ventures - Domain and Savar the Company's renewed focus on a quality mix of high-grade gold and copper projects in favourable jurisdictions within hemisphere, I look forward to keeping the market informed as we advance our projects towards drilling."

Las Calandrias Project Overview

Las Calandrias is an advanced-stage gold-silver project located immediately adjacent to Don Nicolas' mining operation and Martinetas. The project currently contains two main mineralized zones – i) the bulk-tonnage, dome-hosted of Sur deposit and ii) the high-grade Calandria Norte and Morena vein/breccia zones. The Calandria Sur zone is located a southern limit of the Company's claim block and extends across this boundary into Don Nicolas' claim block (where it is the Escondido mineralized zone). The high-grade Calandria Norte and Morena gold-silver vein/breccias lie along NE-trustructures in the central portion of the Las Calandrias claim block and were the focus of the Company's most-recent (20 Further potential still exists to expand the known mineralized zones at Calandria Norte, Morena, and the sub-parallel Despreciada/Nido vein zones through drilling.
