OSLO, Dec. 24, 2020 - As stated in its Q3 report, Borr Drilling has been working actively with its creditors to strengthen the liquidity profile of the Company. With considerable support of all secured creditors a liquidity improvement plan amounting to $925 million over the next two years has been devised.

Subject to the Company successfully raising USD40m in new equity, the lenders are supportive of the following outcome, subject to final Board and credit committee approvals:

- The USD400m syndicated bank facilities to defer maturity to Jan 2023
- The USD195m Hayfin facility to defer maturity to Jan 2023
- USD760m PPL facilities now mature in May 2023 and related interest of $107m in March 2023
- The USD272m Keppel facility to defer interest to May 2023
- The USD620m in Keppel newbuilding commitments to be deferred to June 2023
- The USD350m Convertible bond, remains in place unchanged with a maturity in May 2023

The Company will now negotiate the definitive documentation with a view to closing the same and raising new equity by 31 January 2021.

Borr Drilling has received strong indications from its main shareholders supporting the proposed equity issue based on this liquidity improvement.

"Borr Drilling is very thankful for the support given by all the secured creditors and yards to strengthen the financial footing of the company. We consider this a great testimony to the quality of our people, assets, and operations who in turn deliver value to our customers", commented Patrick Schorn.
