29.04.2021 | CNW

VANCOUVER, April 29, 2021 - Desert Mountain Energy Corp. (the "Company") (TSXV: DME) (U.S. OTC: DMEHF) (Frankfurt: QM01) From the President of the Company.

The Company is pleased to announce that the Arizona Oil & Gas Conservation Commission has granted Desert Mountain Energy Corp. the permit to drill another exploratory helium well in NE Arizona. This well is located approximately 30 miles west of the first two successful wildcat helium wells the company drilled then completed last year. These wells are all situated on a known anticlinal feature which the company ran proprietary geophysical studies pertinent to locating specific trapping mechanisms required to have commercial quantities of helium.

The Company has contacted the drilling contractor and is now in queue for the drill rig in addition to the open hole logging and cementing companies. The company anticipates having the drilling company on site in seven to ten days. The Company anticipates drilling three new wells prior to undertaking completion procedures.

The Company will be adding additional staff during this time as we begin our planned work on these and other wells and their possible associated production.
