The Phase 2 exploration program will concentrate around an exploration target with promising gold and silver assay results recently reported from the Phase 1 prospecting and rock sampling program. The geological work will be carried out on a 100-hectare section of the property with grid-controlled detailed mapping and rock sampling focused on a 25-hectare central block covering the core of the gold and silver discovery area with additional mapping and sampling of the surrounding area. Project Background

The Jackie is a promising early stage precious metal project located 175 km east of Hermosillo, Sonora, Mexico. The large grassroots property is located in a very productive region only one to two kilometres south from Colibri's El Mezquite and Diamante properties and is approximately 6 kilometres to the west of Minera

Alamos' (TSXV: MAI) Santana project, where the Nicho deposit currently under development and expected to reach commercial production in the near term.

The Jackie Project is located within the western portion of the Sierra Madre Occidental Volcanic Complex within the prominent northwest-trending "Sonora Gold Belt" of northern Mexico and parallel to the precious metals-rich Mojave-Sonora Megashield.

The Property is situated. Other nearby large operating mines include Alamos Gold's Los Mulatos gold mine and Agnico Eagle's La India gold mine located 50-60 km to the northeast, Agnico Eagle's Pinos Altos Mine, 95 km southeast and Argonaut's La Colorada Mine, 100 km to the west.

The 1,130-hectare Property is easily accessible from Hermosillo to the Tepoca area and heading south from Mexican Highway #16 or west from Highway #117, or from Ciudad Obregón travelling northeast on Highway #117 and west to the pueblo of La Quema with vehicles and then pack teams along dry river beds, dirt roads and trails. The southerly road from Highway #16 traverses through the centre of the known gold mineralization at El Mezquite only 2 km north of Jackie. High voltage power lines are positioned on Highway #16.
